Raley's hit to centre.

This lead was of short duration, for the Shipbuilders in their half of the eighth secured one pass from Sloan, which, with two wild pitches, a stolen base and a sacrifice fly by Carpes netted three runs. The Colts could not connect with Schulze's delivery in the eighth, but in the ninth succeeded in getting one man around the bases. This was not sufficient, for the Shipbuilders in their part of the ninth had found Smallwood for a single and two triples, netting two runs, giving them

W. Ryan's error in the second inning in not heeding Bunting's call was costly. Bunting was well under the pop-up by Carnes, when Ryan ran into him, and he dropped the ball, allowing the runner to score. The score

Now starring at third base for the Pittsburgh Pirates. Mowrey was highly pleased at the trade that brought him from St. Louis to Pittsburgh, and he is showing his pleasure in the splendid manner in which he is holding down the difficult corner for Manager Clarke.

Big Wrestling Card To-Night

will be presented to-night at the Academy of Music, when a double bill will be the attraction. Frank Burns, who lost to Joe Turner in a gruelling match last week, is to meet Al Maupas, of Baltimore, one of the toughest men ever appearing on a mat, says report. Billy Collins will try to take the measure of Con Albright. There is no question in the minds of the hundreds of local fans as to the ability of Albright. Burns must prove what he has in stock before he can regain the opinion held of him before he lost to Turner. There were many who implicitly believed that the Michigan man could score a victory over the champion, and they were sadly disappointed when he lost. If he can win from Maupas to-night he will partially, at least, regain the prestige he has lost. Albright will unquestionably go to the mat a favorite over Collins, though the Westerner has improved wonderfully since he last appeared here. Altogether it is by far a more attractive card than has ever been offered before, and many people will go just to see the sport, regardless of their favorites. The first bout will begin at 8:30 o'clock sharp. There will be no delay, so late comers can have no kick if they miss any part of the spectacu-

The winners of these bouts will fight it out for a chance at Fritz Hansen, and the winner of the Hansen match will be given a chance at Joe Turner, the present middleweight champion.
